MONTHLY PRAYER CALENDAR

of Central Heights Church Global Workers

SEPTEMBER 2018

This month we asked our Global Workers: "How can we support you in your work?"

SEPTEMBER 1

Wendy Eros

MBMission - Toyota, Japan

wendyeros@gmail.com

Greetings from Toyota City, Japan. Thank you so much for your prayers as I had my second knee replacement surgery. Praise the Lord everything went well this time and I pray soon I'll be up and running around again!

Please pray for the students during their summer vacation. Our heat wave was deadly and had the highest temperatures ever recorded in Japan's history. That, along with the earthquake in Osaka, flooding and landslides further south and two typhoons, made our summer one of the worst in Japanese history. Please pray as the country tries to recover from all this devastation.

Please pray too as classes resume on September 4. Pray for my knee to be healed enough that teaching won't be too difficult and pray for many opportunities to share the gospel with the students in ways that will open their eyes, ears and hearts to Jesus.

SEPTEMBER 2

Josh Tournemille

YWAM - Australia

j.tournemille@gmail.com

In August, my team headed to Palembang, Indonesia for four weeks. We did lots of evangelism, prayer, intercession, open worship in the streets, open air preaching, and more.

We went right in time for the 2018 Asian Games which is basically the Olympics for Asia. What an incredible time to go to a city! A time when not only locals are there, but the nations of Asia were also gathered there! That means that not only did we have opportunities to reach Indonesians with the love of God, but Iraqis, North Koreans, Syrians, and so many more nations that are closed!

It's an incredibly strategic outreach. We're expecting God to move in a powerful way because of the timing and the uniqueness of this opportunity!

God's Leadership

God is leading me into things here and I am desperately in need of being led by his Spirit! Pray for continued refinement in my character and heart.

Southeast Asia Outreach

For three weeks I led a team in a closed-access Muslim nation.

Our local contacts were an Asian family that started a business in this nation. This business allows them to stay in the country as they believe they have a long-term call to the nation, but due to the restrictive nature of this nation, it is incredibly challenging for foreigners to visit for any length of time longer than a standard vacation.

I'm excited for what God will do in the future in this place. We're trusting God for openness to be able to share the Gospel and an open door for missionaries to go to be able to serve!

Local Ministry in Perth

Recently we have been partnering with a local church in the city to help equip them with tools to see their community reached through prayer, worship and evangelism.

We started this partnership in April after the leaders of the church were given information about my ministry, that uses prayer and worship to see breakthrough, and they wanted to have us come and facilitate prayer and worship for them in their community with the intent to eventually go out into the streets and share the love of God!

What we have seen is that through our dedicated time spent in prayer and worship, there has been a fire lit in this church. We've seen the number of people coming out to participate continue to climb, and more than just the numbers, there is a real growth in willingness to be active, step outside their comfort zone and reach their community.

I am incredibly passionate about what God wants to do in both the local church and global missions working together in unity!

SIM - Niger

September for me starts the journey of language learning. I'm excited because it means I'm one step closer to Sahel Academy. But I'm also nervous because it's a big task to learn to think and speak in a different language/culture. Language learning tips and words of encouragement would be greatly appreciated.

I'm also at 59% of my monthly support needs for Niger. Please pray with me that I will continue to trust God for his provision in this area while I am in France and that my support level goals will be met so that I can be in Niger for the 2019-2020 school year.

SEPTEMBER 4
Amber Griffioen

Good News International Ministries - Chiang Rai, Thailand
ambergriffioen@gmail.com

God continues to be faithful and good! He's going before me and splitting open the Red Sea as he promised. I've been really enjoying spending more time in this one vulnerable village. There is so much brokenness here, but I believe God has some amazing plans for restoration.

Since arriving in Thailand, I've been joining the House of Blessing in doing children's clubs on Saturdays. But it hasn't been until the last couple weeks that I've been able to start visiting in the evenings. Although communication is limited (as many adults don't speak Thai very well), I've been really enjoying starting to build relationships with more adults and young people. Please pray that these people will really encounter God's love and step into a relationship with him, and through this, pray that they will be set free from the grip of alcohol and drugs.

Please join me in:

- praying that the abuse that is occurring in the village will end;
- praying that those vulnerable of being trafficked will be protected.
- praising God! It sounds like two young girls have decided not to step into what sounded like a potential trafficking work situation.
- praying that this whole village will be transformed by Jesus.

With God nothing is impossible!

I really feel like the best support I can get is prayer coverage! Thank you so much for this! The darkness is thick but God's light penetrates the darkness. I've had a lot of opposition physically, spiritually, emotionally, and mentally as I've started doing regular prayer walks right at the Thai-Myanmar border crossing that is known to be a human trafficking route. The darkness does not like the Light. But God's word says "The light shines in the darkness, and the darkness has not overcome it." John 1:5. For the first couple of weeks of doing these prayer walks, my health kept getting worse after going. But since having more people join me in praying during those specific times, I feel renewed strength, joy, and health. God is teaching me to intercede through praise, joy, and proclaiming his promises. If you'd like to join me specifically at these times, I go for sure on Wednesdays and Fridays at 4:30pm Vancouver time. Thank you! "The prayer of a righteous person has great power as it is working." James 5:16.

I will be in Canada from September 8 - November 10.

SEPTEMBER 5
Stan and Annamaria Goertzen

TEAM - Forli, Italy
goertzens@gmail.com

September 8-13 is the TEAM Italy annual conference where a new vision, mission and field structure will be discussed and hopefully approved by the 32 missionaries located in 11 cities scattered through north and central Italy. Apart from the business, we have invited a number of health experts (doctor, counsellors, team-building and coaching consultants) who will guide us through a number of seminars and workshops geared towards refreshment and health. Pray for spiritual, emotional and physical refreshment as well as God's leading during this time. Our ministry team in Forli has a team-building event shortly after the conference. Pray that we would grow in effectiveness as a ministry team.

September is also the beginning of the school year and of our regular activities: English classes, patchwork evenings, and special Saturday evening events and activities. Pray that God would put it in the heart of some who come to these activities to read God's Word and attend our worship services on Sunday morning. Pray that Crocevia (Crossroads) church would grow in the grace and knowledge of Jesus and that the Lord would add others to our number.

SEPTEMBER 6
Megan Rintoul

SIM - Bolivia
mkrintoul@gmail.com

Through it all, God is faithful

This semester was quite a whirlwind! The biggest obstacle we faced was something called "Nivelación" or "Leveling Out." Because we changed our school calendar to match the Bolivian school calendar, our students 'lost' six months of classes. This meant that according to the Bolivian system many of them were too old for the grade that they were entering. We were required to give students the option of taking tests to jump to the next grade. After two rounds of testing, we then were informed that we had to pass all the students who took the tests, whether they actually had the abilities and understanding or not. Although we tried to explain to parents why this was not a good idea and tried to convince them not to skip their children ahead if they were not ready, all of the parents whose children took the tests chose to place their children in the next grade.

Teachers Leave, God Provides

The class that I was most worried about was my Grade 8 Math class. After all, how can I teach Algebra to students who skipped Pre-Algebra? Fortunately, although less mature than their classmates who were already in Grade 8, most of the students who jumped up are well-motivated and ready to work to catch up with their classmates. They are willing to ask questions when they don't understand and some found tutors to help with the concepts they missed. I am thankful that God is given me patience to work with them and that he kept the situation from being the disaster that it could have been. Please pray for all the students who jumped a grade, that they would be able to integrate well with the new classes that they are in and would be motivated to work hard when they struggle to understand due to missing concepts. Please pray for wisdom for teachers to know how to address the learning gaps.

I would have thought it was impossible for CCS to find a new English teacher within two weeks, but not only did God pull through, he found us someone fantastic! After all the upheaval of Nivelación, the English teacher informed the administration that she would not be continuing at CCS. Where do you find a new English teacher in Bolivia with only two weeks notice? One of the Spanish teachers recommended Karen Villarroel. Although Bolivian, she studied at an international school much like CCS and then went to Bible school in New York state, so her English is almost perfect! Karen is wonderful, an amazing teacher with a real heart for her students. I am praying that she decides to stay at CCS long-term!

Over the semester break, the art teacher retired, the social studies teacher returned home to Canada, and the Chemistry/Biology teacher also finished her contract and returned to the US. God also provided three new teachers for us: a full-time PE teacher (before, PE was being taught by volunteers), a new art teacher and a new social studies teacher. We are still in need of Chemistry/Biology teacher, so if you know of anyone interested in doing a short (or long-term) missions' trip to South America, please send them our way!

More changes ahead, God is already there

The social studies teacher who had to leave is my best friend Julie. She also shared the house with me. It was so difficult to say goodbye, but we have to trust and believe that God has good plans for her and has already prepared the way for her as she returns to Quebec. Please pray for her as she re-adjusts to living in Canada and works to form friendships and find a job. Pray also for me as I process the fact that she isn't here in Bolivia with me to laugh and cry with, to share adventures with or to ask for a hug. Although no one can replace her, please pray that God would provide other deep friendships for me here.

I am getting a new house-mate! Jaime Penner is a student-teacher from Virginia who is coming to work with Grade 1. She and I will be living together for the next four months. Please pray that this could be a relationship in which we can encourage each other and build each other up in Christ. Pray that we find a good rhythm for living life together.

I have been given another exciting opportunity. The pastor at my church asked me if I would be willing to be part of the teacher rotation for the Tuesday night Bible study. We will be working through the book of Acts. This will be challenging as it is not something I have ever done before and will motivate me to take my own Bible study deeper. It's also going to be extra challenging as I will be teaching in Spanish! Please pray that I would be humble and sensitive to what God wants to say and teach. Pray also for my Spanish, as I often feel inadequate. Fortunately, there are several people who speak both Spanish and English who regularly attend and can help me with any vocabulary I might be missing. Please pray that I can communicate clearly.

No matter how things are going, we always need to be ready for changes ahead. I am so thankful to know that nothing will surprise our great God and there is nothing that he cannot handle. He is already preparing us and has all the resources we need. Please pray for flexibility, for energy, for rest and for peace as we seek to follow where he leads.

Thanks for journeying with me!

SEPTEMBER 7

Ricky and Karen Sanchez

MBMission - Chonburi, Thailand

sierrasanchez@hotmail.com

We are so grateful for the support and prayers from Central Heights over many years! Thank you for standing with us and behind us in the ministry here in SE Asia!

Here are some current ways to pray and support us and our team here!

Pray

We need daily prayer partners that are committed to praying for our family and the Thai churches and believers here every day! We would love to have people email us and ask for current prayer requests... we can write a few bullet points that are current for that week and know that people are praying in real time for real people!

Teams

It's been a joy to host some Central Heights teams over the years, and we would love to have another team come this year if possible to serve along side us here and catch the vision for what God is doing here and how they can pray and support it!

Care group

We would love to have a care group pray for us each week and Skype with us sometimes to share our joys and struggles here.

Little treats

Our kids love to get something in the mail from home.... snacks or treats from home are always a hit and remind us that people are praying for us back home!

Thanks for asking this question! We appreciate your love and care for our family!

For prayer:

- Praise God for the young refugee woman from Pakistan we are helping. We were able to find her a sponsor in Canada and things are moving along to get her out of Bangkok and to a new life in Canada. She is a Christian from Pakistan whose life was threatened and at risk of being murdered and fled to Bangkok for asylum. Please pray for Jemna. And pray for her cousin Wasim who is still not a refugee but hiding in Bangkok at great risk and peril.

- Praise God for the two new young children at ALH orphanage. They were rescued from a bus shelter alone, and from a double suicide attempt in the river. Pray for us as we help them through trauma and bonding and try and get them documented and much-needed medication.

- Pray for Fon, our church planter, who does not have citizenship anywhere. She is a vibrant leader and at 24 years old, has never had the security of being a citizen of Thailand. We are working to get her citizenship, but it is almost impossible and very expensive and time consuming. Pray for a miracle and breakthrough with the officials.

- Pray for some of our young believers who are struggling and under attack from the enemy to go back to their old lives and religion. Pray for Mae, Noy, Noon, and Noi.
- Pray for our new church plant, Zion MB, on Monkey Mountain. Pray for teens and adults to come to Christ and be brave enough to attend church. Pray for Gideon and Fon as they work and pray for more believers there!
- Please pray for our family as it is difficult to be apart from our older kids in Kansas and in Singapore. Pray for McKenna in grade12 as she decides where to study next year.
- The Thai government is threatening to take away visas for missionaries and people involved in volunteer work. Pray that this would not go through and for all our missionaries to retain their visas and work permits and ability to live and work here freely. This is causing a lot of stress for many missionaries across Thailand.

- Pray for this new family, Brad and Cassidi as they are training and coming to join us long term next year.

Blessings and joy to you.

Warren and Dorothy Janzen

SEND International - Abbotsford, BC
wjanzen@send.org

September is a busy month for us. I (Warren) am meeting with Directors from three other organizations on September 8-11 to launch the legal entity for our collaborative association of mission agencies. We will also be doing long-range planning. Then from September 20-22 I am at the North American Mission Leader Conference in Orlando, FL where I and another leader will be presenting a workshop on agency collaboration. Following that is a two-day retreat for some SEND leaders as we make plans to facilitate even more non North Americans into missions. Dorothy is coordinating three tracks of a Women's Development Week from the September 23 to 30 in Detroit, MI. This event continues to attract women leaders from different agencies and mission-focused churches.

Please pray for safe travels, great connections with people and that God's heart for the unreached would be the focus of all our meetings.

Thanks for standing with us in prayer.

SEPTEMBER 10

James and Carolanne Warkentin

Power to Change (Truth Media) - Langley, BC
james.warkentin@p2c.com

Thank you for your continued prayer for us in this ministry. We truly appreciate having the church standing with us in our work with Power to Change.

Please pray for:

- James' health. He has been dealing with some health concerns and tests.
- More staff and volunteers who have the desire to serve God using their technical skills.
- Increased effectiveness in reaching people with the gospel online.

SEPTEMBER 11

Kent and Inga Friesen

TeachBeyond - Uzhgorod, Ukraine
kdfkentyc@yahoo.com

Our summer schedule is usually different from that of the study year but there is never a shortage of ways to help people and share God's love. Summer is also a time of catching up with those of our former students and friends who are living/studying/working abroad and return home during their breaks or vacations.

We won't be in Ukraine for the start of the upcoming study year, but we plan to rejoin our usual involvements when we return at the end of October. Kent's mom is scheduled for surgery on September 13 and we travel back to Ukraine on October 30.

Our prayer is that the surgery goes well, and that recovery will be complete before we leave Canada at the end of October. More than this, we pray that God's perfect will be done.

SEPTEMBER 12

Mike and Karen Woodard

Power to Change (Family Life Canada) - Langley, BC
mike@familylifecanada.com

This is the 30th anniversary year of FamilyLife Canada. It was started by a couple in Edmonton who had a burden for the marriages and families around them. It is inspirational to see how God has uses the burden of one couple to build a ministry that now reaches coast to coast and around the world, impacting the lives thousands. This past year 10,754 people attended our FamilyLife events, 33 people indicated a decision for Christ and 1,047 others indicated a commitment to put Christ in the centre of their marriage and families. Our HomeBuilder network has grown to a group of 2,550 people who want to be intentional about bringing help and hope to marriages in their communities.

This month we will be working on developing a training seminar to help couples tell their "Together for Good" story of God's work in their marriages. Our hope is that this will provide a greater reach into the lives of those who do not understand how Christ can impact their lives and marriage. To celebrate the 30th anniversary, I will also be working on a "30 Day Challenge". The idea is to get couples to sign up to receive an email for 30 days with a daily suggestion of something they can do to deepen their relationship with God and each other.

Thank you for your prayers and partnership with us!

Harold and Betty Klassen

TeachBeyond - Abbotsford, BC
hklassen@teachbeyond.org

Praise

The teaching trip in East Asia went very smoothly. There were no problems with my visa. I taught Biblical worldview to two groups in different cities. Both responded very positively about how the material helped them prepare for the classes they will teach this fall. One student was a pastor's wife who came almost 600 km to attend a class which was quickly arranged after a previously scheduled class had to be cancelled for security reasons. She really encouraged me when she wrote:

"I praise our Father and appreciate every effort you have invested over the years in bringing God's Word and God's World together. Thank you very much for teaching and sharing with us, it's a huge blessing to schools and families like us who are seeking at the various stages of ignorance, dissonance, curious and experimentation."

There was a lot of pressure during the past year. One school lost one of their three campuses because the security forces told their landlord not to renew their rental contract. All their investment in the facility over the past five years was lost and parents and friends had to donate $300,000 to prepare another site for the school year. I commented that the uncertainty of working in such an environment and the cost of replacing facilities, must be difficult. They said that they are thankful for whatever they have and do not expect to keep it, so they aren't discouraged when it is taken away. Their generosity to me and their attitude challenged me.

Another blessing was meeting the first TeachBeyond missionaries from East Asia who serve at Faith Academy in the Philippines. This is a difficult cross-cultural assignment as the wife is the only one who knew English when they started a year ago. It is hard for her husband as he isn't able to be close to the other English-speaking staff, so he is quite isolated. Because she is a graduate of a teacher education program that I've been part of, the director of the program invited me to join them for lunch. During the meal, I mentioned that I was with TeachBeyond and discovered that they are also. We don't get a lot of detailed information about our East Asian colleagues except through such personal contacts.

Prayer

The bilingual online course on the Biblical worldview is being revised before a second cohort begins the course in October. I always find it hard to keep working without procrastination on an online course. When I have a class in front of me, I can't wait. My co-teacher is working to prepare videos in Chinese as he takes more ownership of the course. This is great! Please pray that the course will develop so that it is helpful to Chinese speaking teachers and the English-only version will also equip TeachBeyond staff around the world.

During September I will be attending TeachBeyond leadership meetings in the UK where we will be discussing what we could/should do about transformational education in the US and Canada. We have been thinking about how we can encourage a renewed vision in the church for their involvement in education. Neutrality isn't an option, but few have a vision for offering something Christ-centered and Bible-based for their own children, let alone all those who are only exposed to a self-centered and godless view of God's world in their schools.

Please pray that the next generation of children and young people will learn to relate all of life and learning to God and his word—just like their teachers. Pray too that TeachBeyond will know its part in that process and do it faithfully despite all challenges.

Pray too for a teaching trip to Myanmar in October. Because this will be my first time in this country, please pray that I will be especially sensitive to the situation as I teach the Biblical worldview to a group of about 40 teachers at a large Christian school.

Update

My right ear which went from poor hearing to almost zero hearing in June has not recovered. The specialist who treated the problem with medication says that I have all the symptoms of Miniere's disease, but the only way to be sure is do an autopsy after I'm dead— "but we won't go that far." It is unlikely that the hearing will ever return, and new hearing aids won't help because they only create louder, unintelligible sound in my right ear. Fortunately, I have a pretty good left ear so as long as you don't "get on the right side of me", I should be able to hear you OK.

SEPTEMBER 14

Ruth Maxwell

SIM - Abbotsford, BC

ruth.maxwell@sim.org

Caring for people via internet connections is challenging. Some are in the midst of transition and are making big decisions that will affect their future. Some are dealing with leadership changes and wondering how those changes will affect them. Others are feeling overwhelmed with their workload. They are trying to find a healthy way forward and figuring out what they can say no to. Another person is thinking through the implications of placing a couple in a limited access country and phoned to ask me what I had learned about that country and the team working there. Sometimes people drop off the scene for a few months at a time and then come back when they need more input. I'm always delighted with these renewed calls.

My prayer is always that I will understand what the person is going through, even though we are on the internet and not face-to-face. I also pray that I will ask the right questions so they are able to continue processing their situation. Thank you for praying for me!

SEPTEMBER 15

Rob and Judy Griffioen

Good News International Ministries - Canada
robandjudy2thai@gmail.com

Rather than be on the road visiting churches and supporters, this summer Judy and I have stayed in Abbotsford. The road ahead for Judy's pain management is therapy, elimination of as much stress as possible and rest. While the pain of Complex Regional Pain Syndrome remains constant in Judy's right hand, arm and shoulder, we are seeing some small gains for which we are truly grateful. Mindful that this is not just a battle against "flesh and blood" (Ephesians 6:12), we walk in Christ's victory daily and are reminded that he is for us. He is our peace.

Meanwhile, over in Thailand, the House of Blessing recently moved to their new home in Mae Sai, Thailand. This move helps to solidify their standing as a foster care home for children at high risk of exploitation and gives them room to grow in numbers and in sustainability.

The House of Blessing is located within a couple of kilometres of the Tham Luang cave complex where the team of 12 boys and their coach were recently rescued from being trapped in the cave. We watched the news and celebrated their rescue as anyone else would, yet realized that there are so many other children in that region who are also trapped in situations beyond their control. It breaks our hearts whenever we hear of children being sold by their parents. Because of this, God is leading us to turn towards ministering to whole families. The House of Blessing is making a huge difference in bringing the hope of Jesus Christ to many who do not know him.

Just north of them in Shan State, our partners Sion and Apem continue to develop their own foster home, which has 20 children in it. Our partnership (Fourth Man Eagle) on Mindanao Island in the Philippines continues to develop as well. Hannah Limen, one of their workers, has been in Canada for two months now, helping to raise awareness for the Fourth Man Eagle ministry. This is a true blessing for us as, due to Judy's medical condition, we have been unable to visit churches and supporters as we normally would. We also hear of good things happening through our other ministry partnerships in Thailand and in Haiti. Please pray for God to continue to bless all our ministries.

Our daughter, Amber, has booked a flight home in September for a two-month assignment. Her twin sister, Amanda, and husband James (Martin) are now 40% on the way in their support-team building. They hope to join Amber on mission in Thailand later in the year, and trust God for the provision to do so.

Even though life has its challenges, we remain fully engaged in our mission to bring the Good News to the poor and oppressed, and it is flourishing in many places. Praise God!

Thank you for all the prayers, meals, support and other forms of love sent our way. We trust God for complete healing for Judy and are walking in his peace (Isaiah 26:3).

Jack and Ellen Hooge

North American Indigenous Ministries - Calgary, AB

Thank you for praying for our trip to Berge Lake Camp in Northern Manitoba. We were safe and had no car trouble on the four-day drive to get there and back. I

(Ellen) was privileged to be the camp speaker while Jack kept busy as a life guard, canoe instructor, and guitar player. Please pray for our Indigenous children of the north as they often live in difficult conditions. In spite of this, their resilience amazes us and they are very eager to know and trust Jesus.

How can you help us? Travel is expensive, and our finances are depleted after our summer ministry trips. If you could help build up our travel fund so that we can continue to do ministry, we would be very grateful.
